PROFILE

California Probate and Estate Planning Lawyer Licensed Macro Strategic Planning™ Provider

Inheriting a large sum of money can ruin the lives of those who did not work for it. It brings out the greed in some people. Jim Stovall, author of "The Ultimate Gift", made into a movie starring James Garner, explains the pitfalls of inheriting wealth in a fictional setting. Stan Hutchinson helps families with over $10 million create ultimate gifts in real life situations.

Stan is an attorney practicing in the areas of estate planning, probate, and trust administration. He has successfully represented clients throughout Southern California since 1979. Stan is a creative problem solver. He uses decades of legal experience to help clients find ideal solutions to their unique legal challenges. As a teacher, having instructed at the college level for over 16 years, Stan has the ability to communicate complex ideas in simple terms. After years of speaking with families about their generational structure and estate planning needs, there are few scenarios that Stan has not already encountered. He is a man of action and follow-through.
